

The State of Sustainable Business: 2025 Trends

Navigating a Complex Landscape

Evolving Political Landscape Creates Uncertainty

The 2024 global election wave is reshaping environmental regulations and trade policies.

ESG Backlash Intensifies amid in the U.S.

Major financial institutions are quitting net-zero alliances amid growing political pressure.

AI's Energy Demand Poses a Decarbonisation Challenge

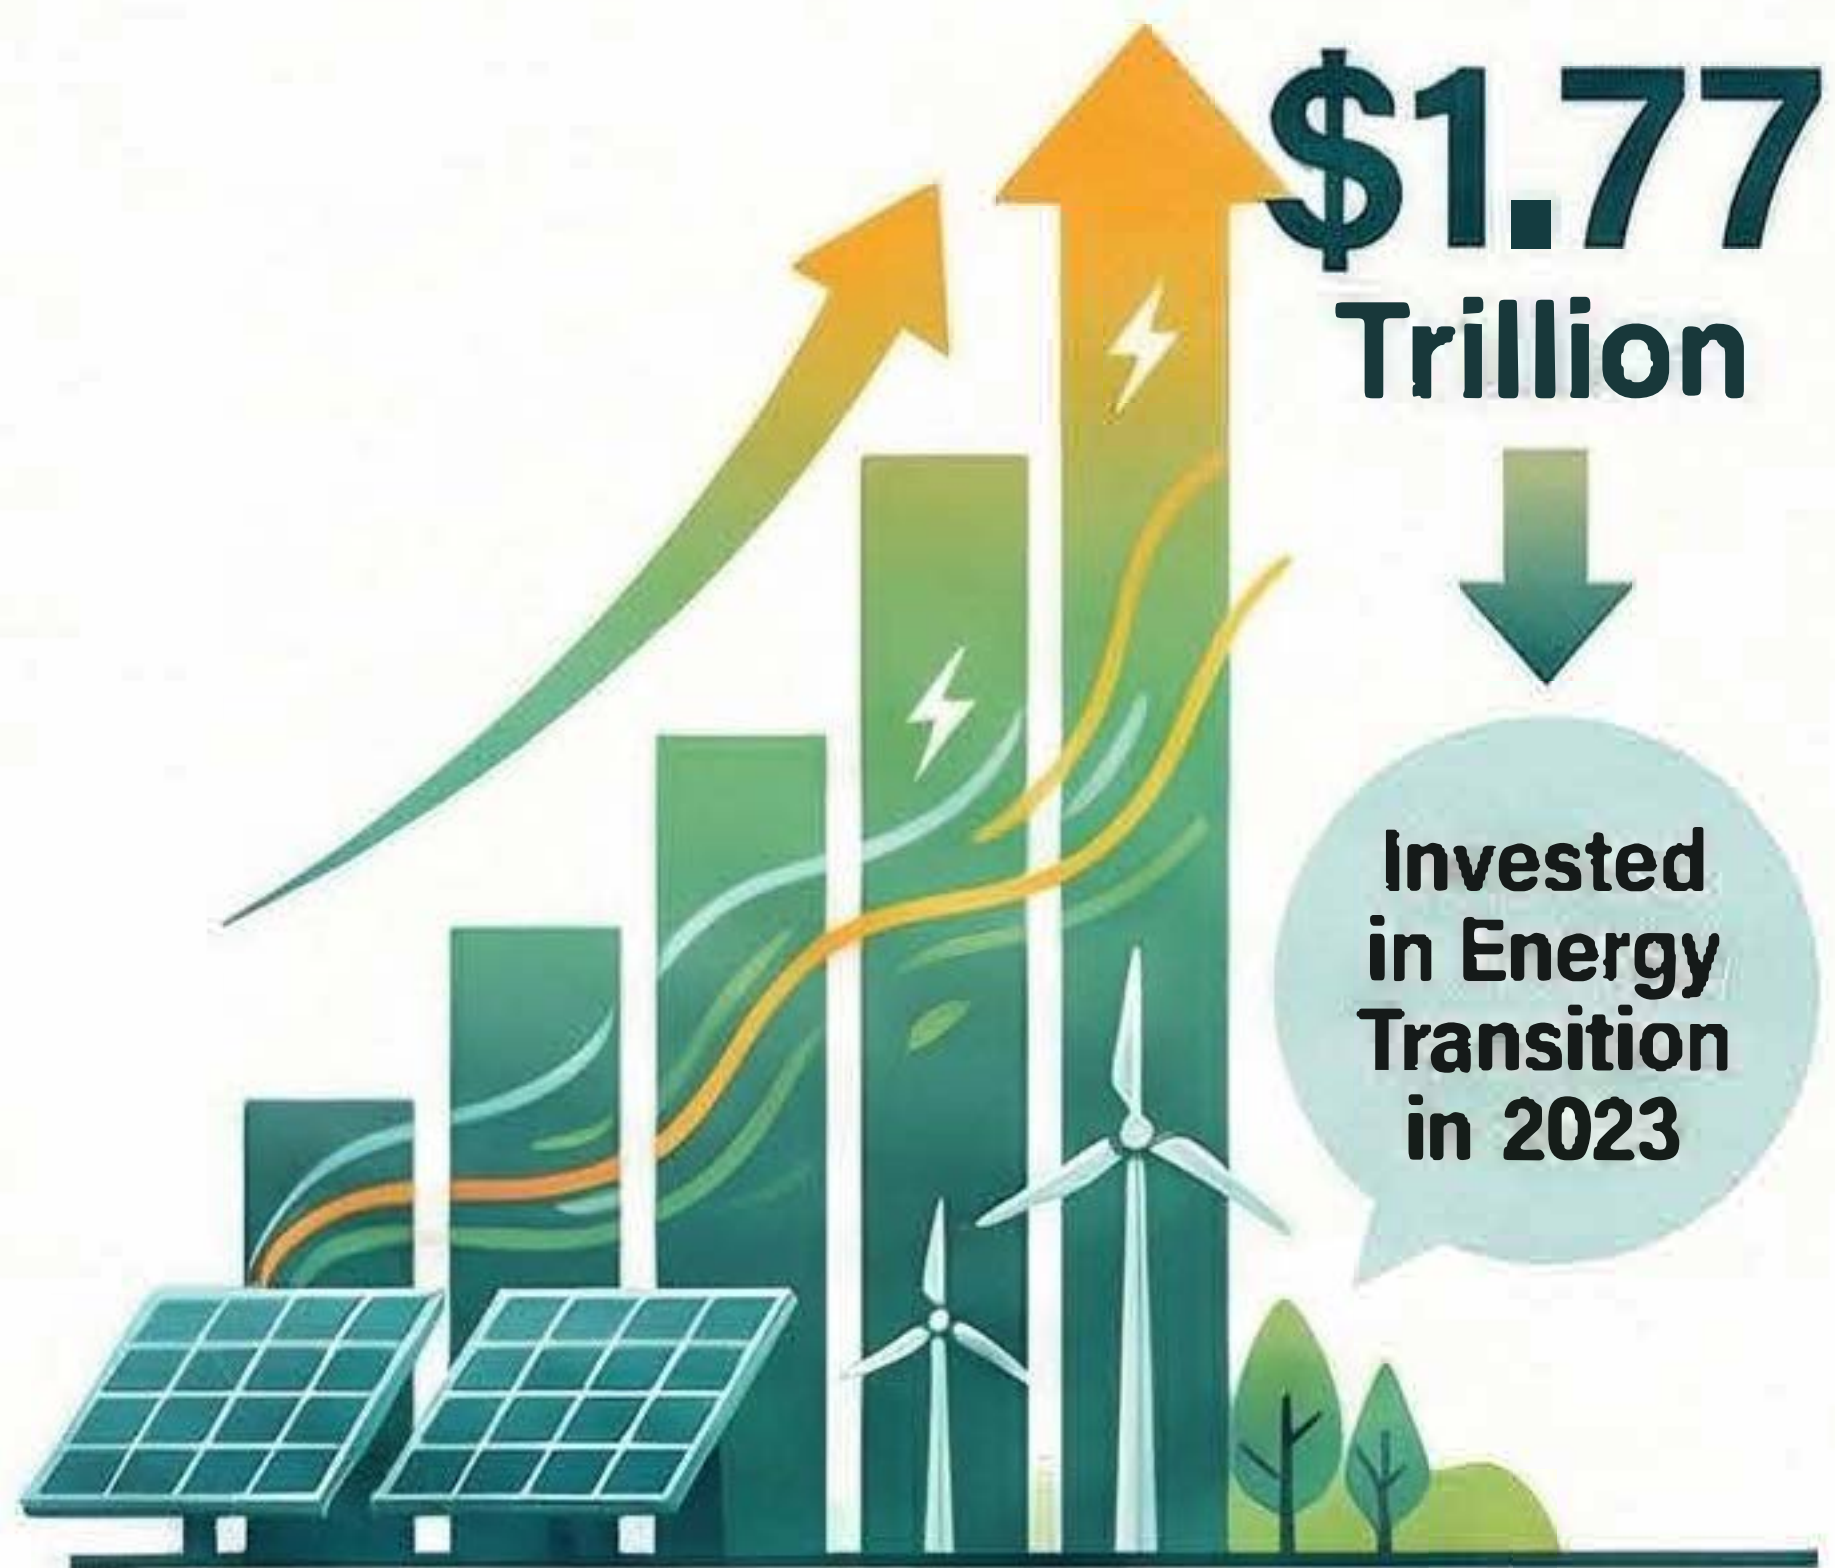

Data centre electricity use may double by 2023, challenging corporate climate targets.

The Path Forward: Driving Value

Global Sustainability Disclosure Becomes a Reality

Mandatory reporting and converging standards are simplifying corporate disclosure.

Surging clean Energy Transition in 2023

Surging clean energy investments are making record growth in renewables possible.

"Many companies now see sustainability as an integral part of doing business."

They are linking it to executive pay and mergers to build resilience.

